«Real estate investment» special

in the «Handelszeitung» on 1 June

Characteristics

In 2023, we will be analysing the state of the national and international real estate markets in a series of specials. How do industry experts rate the current situation? How are climate protection, the war in Ukraine, rising interest rates and inflation affecting the real estate market? We provide reports and analyses that give answers, show approaches to solutions and even dare to look into the future of the real estate industry.

In our ten specials on a range of real estate topics, we shed light on the challenges and opportunities for companies, tenants, homeowners and investors from a wide range of perspectives, and highlight current trends and solutions.

The focus of the «Real estate investment» special on 1 June 2023: where can you still achieve good returns despite rising interest rates? Is it better to invest in residential or office properties, and what are the prospects for special types of real estate such as logistics properties?

Book your ad now in this special and in the online version at the same time. All «Handelszeitung» specials are also published digitally at handelszeitung.ch/specials! We will be happy to advise you.
